The Tampa Times is right in reminding some hot headed editors that Governor Broward is not breaking the law because he goes on prosecuting the work necessary to drain the Everglades in spite of the fact that the courts have restrained collecting certain special taxes to pay a part of such work. A distinction from breaking the law that even some of our weak minded brethren ought to realize.

Afraid of Strong Medicine.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. For sale by Ed

Greene and all druggists.

Georgia Magnet to Visit Arcadia.

Miss Annie May Abbott, better known as the "Little Georgia Magnet" will be the attraction at the Arcadia Opera House Friday night, March 23rd.

Though this will be Miss Abbott's first visit to Arcadia, she does not come an entire stranger, for the Little Georgia Magnet, the strong woman, and Miss Aunie May Abbott have long since been familiar and synonymous terms in the public's mind, while many of our citizens have had the pleasure of witnessing her truly wonderful performance.

The press has exhausted its space for novelty in comment on the mysterious powers of this 103 pound lady, who handles men like feathers, and resists with equal ease the force of their combined strength in innumerable tests, and without the exertion of muscular power. Her advance agent exhibits a large book of comment, theory and endorsement from the press; from scientific, medical and various other institutions, societies and noted individuals, (too lengthy to quote) but it sufficeth to say that when Sandow, the strongest man in the world, fails to lift her from the floor, she must retire from public life unmatched, undefined and under estimated, a wonder of this age.

She is now enroute to South America on her third tour of the world. Don't fail to see her.
